ATTORNEY IS STILL SICK

Affidavit Says That Charles Tindell
is Suffering From Relapse With Influenza

A affidavit asking for a continuance in the case of the State against Mary Ellen Hughes, charged with embezzlement, was filed this afternoon in circuit court, and Judge John Craig of Greensburg, special judge in the case, granted the motion and reset the case for trial on April 5.

Judge Craig also ordered an extra panel of 25 persons drawn for jury duty on that date. The case was scheduled for trial on next Monday but affidavits were filed today giving proof that Charles Tindell, attorney from Greenfield, and assistant counsel to C. W. Duncan for the defense, was ill, suffering from a relapse with influenza. A physicians affidavit also was filed.

Judge Sparks this morning appointed three appraisers, John W. Mauzy, William B. Morris and Justus Reese, all of Union township, to appraise land, which is wanted by the Fairview Burying Grounds association, as an addition to the cemetery. The suit was filed by the trustees, who asked for appraisers, and Emery Vandeventer, is named defendant. The appraisers are to report within 5 days to the court.

Evidence also was heard on the suit for partition of real estate in the case of Oda K. Hinton, et al., against Jesse L. Hinton, et al., and the court found that the land could not be divided, and J. T. Arbuckle was appointed commissioner, and the land ordered sold, so that the money could be divided.

The divorce suit of Henry Miller against Anna Miller has been sent to Henry county, on a motion for a change granted to the plaintiff.

The case of John Kelley, Jr., against Russell Bebout et al., will be heard here before Judge Craig of Greensburg, as it was agreed upon today that he should hear the case.

May Die Following Shooting

POSSE SEEKS FORMER CONVICT

Spencer, Tenn., March 8.—Mrs. George Haston, mother of secretary of state, E. N. Haston, was probably fatally shot and four others were wounded, when a negro ran amuck here today.

Mrs. Sam Haston, sister-in-law of the secretary of state, who was seriously injured died from fright during the shooting.

Mrs. Haston's husband was seriously wounded and Mrs. G. O. Shatiero and two other neighbors were injured. The negro, Leslie Dudley, paroled convict, who was employed on the Haston farm was pursued by a posse following the shooting.

The negro called Sam Haston to the door of his home early today and opened fire, wounding Haston in both legs. Mrs. Shatiero, a neighbor, visiting at the bedside of Haston's wife rushed to the door and shot down with a bullet near her heart.

Mrs. George Haston then went to the aid of her son and was met by a bullet which penetrated her heart.

The negro, it was believed, became enraged when he was reprimanded a few hours earlier by Haston for stealing corn.

Secretary of State Haston, who is also state democratic committee chairman, was notified of the shooting and rushed here from Nashville.

NIGHT POLICEMAN AT BEDFORD IS KILLED

Thirteen Boys Held In Connection
With Shooting Claim Revolver Was Accidentally Discharged

ESCAPADE AT SKATING RINK

(By United Press)

Bedford Ind., March 8.—William Sutherland, 68 years old, night policeman at Mitchell, ten miles south of her, was killed instantly last night by a revolver which thirteen Bedford boys held in connection with the shooting claimed was accidentally discharged.

Morgan Pattison, George Cupps and Clarence Tabor said the gun was accidentally discharged when Pattison surrendered it to the marshal. The three youths were members of a party of Bedford boys who visited a skating rink at Mitchell. Pattison carried the gun.

When they emerged from the rink he was dared to shoot an arc light suspended over the street. He shot it. Sutherland heard the shot and ran to the scene. The boys scattered.

Later Sutherland encountered the trio and demanded the gun. Tabor said that Pattison offered to surrender it and that when Sutherland grabbed it the cartridge was exploded, the bullet entering above the heart and coming out the back. Sutherland fell over dead.

SEEKING NAME OF THE TRUCK DRIVER

Local Officials Propose To Prosecute Man Whose Machine Mired Down In Mud Sunday

MACHINE STILL BEING HELD

Attorneys Point To Two Indiana
Statutes Which May Be Invoked
In Case Of Heavy Hauling

An effort is being made to learn the name of the driver of the motor truck which mired down in a mud hole three miles east of Rushville Sunday and had to be dragged out Monday, after the freight was unloaded, so that proceedings can be instituted against him for violating the laws regarding heavy hauling on the roads when they are soft.

The truck is still standing at the side of the road, along with two other trucks that have been held up there by road officials until the roads settle.

The truck that got stuck Sunday is owned by a transit company with offices in Indianapolis, it is said, but officials propose to file an affidavit against the driver because he is the one who is accused of actually violating the law.

Attorneys called attention today to the fact that there are two laws under which people using the roads at this season of the year, hauling heavy loads, may be prosecuted. One prescribes the load which may be carried on certain sized wheels and the other provides a penalty for obstructing the highway.

One statute says that it is unlawful "to haul on any turnpike, macadam or gravel road, at any time when the road is thawing through or by any reason of wet weather is in condition to be cut up or injured by hauling, a load on any vehicle, with tires of less than three inches in width the combined weight of which load and vehicle, including the driver, shall be more than 2500 pounds; or on a vehicle with tires three inches and less than four inches in width, the combined weight of which load and vehicle, including the driver, shall be more than 3000 pounds; or on a vehicle with tires four inches and less than five inches in width, the combined weight of which including the driver, shall be more than 3500 pounds; or on a vehicle with tires five inches or over in width, the combined weight of which load and vehicle, including the driver, shall be more than 4000 pounds." MAIL MAN SEES DIRIGIBLE

James Moore Reports Machine Flying Low Over Southern Rush Co.

James Moore, rural mail carrier on route No. 3 out of Rushville, saw a large gray dirigible flying over the southern part of the county this morning while engaged in delivering mail. The machine was passing in the southwestern direction at a very low rate of speed when he saw it, and carried two passengers, who were plainly visible because the dirigible was flying very low, not more than a thousand feet above the earth Mr. Moore estimated.

He was about one and one-half miles north of Milroy when he saw the machine. It flew an American flag at the rear.

WOULD PROVIDE A CHECK ON DOCTORS

Dr. E. I. Wooden, County Health Officer, Proposes Birth Certificate to be Mailed

MANY BIRTHS NOT REPORTED

Such Certificate in Possession of Parents May Prove Invaluable in Later Years

A plan to secure registration of all babies born in Rush county, which would compel physicians to report births promptly, and according to the law, may be worked out here, which will consist of the parents receiving a "Birth Certificate" from the health commissioner, showing that the birth has been properly recorded on the books.

The law provides that physicians shall report to the health commissioners all births, and the health officer in turn, records it on the books locally, and forwards the blanks to the state board of health, where the names are again enrolled.

Health commissioners in Rush county asserted that there is a tendency on the part of some physicians to overlook the registering of births, and the law has been violated openly in the county, it is said.

Dr. E. I. Wooden, county health commissioner, has worked out a plan, which may be put into effect here, and which will cause physicians to make the reports promptly.

Dr. Wooden has suggested that the county have printed a form of a certificate, on which could be filled out the name of the new born child, the parents name, state, county and township, and the attending physician, as well as the date of birth, and the date of recording the birth.

These certificates would be given to the city and county health commissioners Drs. J. M. Lee and Wooden, and when the physicians report births, these health officers would fill out one of the certificates and mail it back to the parents, thus giving a check on the physician, and showing the parents that the birth had been properly recorded.

The certificate also would answer for a great many cases where the person has to present a birth certificate in later years in business transactions or other matters that would require birth facts.

The law sets out that unless births are reported within the limit of a few hours time, that the physician cannot force payment for his

RECOMMENDS M'CRAY PERMIT VOTE ON BILL

Attorney General Lesh Advises Governor to Allow People to Ballot on Soldier Bonus

53 BILLS AWAITING ACTION

Indianapolis, March 8.—Attorney General Lesh today recommended that Governor McCray permit the soldier bonus bill to go to a referendum in the 1924 election, without assuming now to determine the constitutionality of the bill.

The governor and some of his advisers are known to doubt the constitutionality of the bonus and executive action on the measure was still a question. John Moorman of Knox, an intimate friend and political counsellor of Governor McCray, takes the position that the bonus bill violates that part of the constitution providing that each law enacted by the legislature shall be sufficient in itself. The governor shares this view.

"The only question now is whether to submit the question to the people," Lesh said. "If it is adopted by a popular vote, then its constitutionality can be tested."

McCray started carefully perusing fifty-eight bills still awaiting his action today. Among them is the co-operative marketing bill which he has also submitted to Attorney General Lesh for an opinion.

GRAND JURY TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION

Officials Hope To Break Up Bootlegging Ring Giving Liquor Allegedly To Congressmen

HAVE MUCH INFORMATION

Washington, March 8.—A sweeping grand jury investigation into extensive bootlegging operations has been decided upon by local federal authorities.

Through this inquiry, local officials hope to break up the bootlegging ring which has been supplying large quantities of liquor allegedly to congressmen, government officials and many residents of the nation's capital prominent socially. The grand jury probably will be convened for the investigation over today or tomorrow.

Much information already has been collected for local police and prohibition agents which will be presented to the grand jury with the request for numerous indictments.

In this manner it is believed that the "big bootleggers" can be reached and the industry which has been flourishing so well within a stone's throw of federal prohibition headquarters broken up.

HIGHWAY IS NOW OPENED

Number 10. Near Hazelton, Opened After Being Closed For Week

Hazelton, Ind., Mar. 8.—Traffic over state road number 10 here—one of the main arteries from southern part of the United States through Indiana to Chicago has been resumed here after having been closed nearly a week.

At this point the traffic is carried across White river on a ferry. The ice on White river has made the crossing so difficult that traffic was hampered.

The state highway commission is building a bridge across the river near the ferry and is expecting it to be completed before December 1923.

The bridge is to be 100 feet long and is said to be the largest bridge on any state highway in the middle west.

MANY ACCIDENTS DUE TO HIGH SPEED

Maintenance Superintendent Says Traffic Should Slow Down In Passing Road Workmen

IN ORDER TO PROTECT MEN

Traffic Co-operation With Work Gangs Would Lessen Maintenance Expense To Taxpayers

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—Accident reports kept by the state highway commission show that many automobile accidents on state roads are due to high speed and frequently this course is followed when maintenance forces are at work on the roads, it was pointed out today in a safety bulletin issued by A. H. Hinkle, superintendent of maintenance.

Mr. Hinkle says traffic should slow down in passing workmen and he urges drivers to cooperate with the department in order to protect men engaged in road upkeep.

"If for no other reason than common courtesy, it is a good reason for high speed traffic to slow down when passing workmen on our highways, the bulletin says. "These men are required to occupy a portion of the highway in maintaining and repairing same. It is not any selection of their own they occasionally interfere with traffic to a small degree. The work on the road surface must be done while traffic is using the road or the road closed and traffic hampered by long detours. It is to avoid as many detours as possible that traffic is permitted on roads being repaired.

"The commission closes roads to traffic only when it is imperative to do so by reason of extensive repair. Indiana has always kept detours down to a minimum compared to the number to be found in state systems of other commonwealths. If traffic will cooperate with work gangs, closing of roads will be lessened and maintenance work can be done at considerably less expense to the taxpayers.

"It is not an uncommon thing," says Mr. Hinkle, "to see an unreasonable bully driving his machine at a high rate of speed in passing workmen on highways. This course subjects workmen to an unreasonable and unwarranted hazard, and our records show that some of our employes have been killed and others badly injured as a result of negligent criminal tactics.

DON'T GET UP NIGHTS FOR BLADDER ILLS

Dayton Man Reports Relief With Simple Remedy After Getting Up 15 or 20 Times Each Night for Two Years

Mr. Julius Mayer, 1430 East Fifth St., says in his own home paper, the Dayton News: "For two years my bladder caused me to get up many times at night and too frequent in the day. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula), my bladder works perfectly normal and I can sleep all night."

Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder as Epsom Salts do on the bowels. You will be surprised at the impurities which come from the bladder after taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula). It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are useful to give relief. It is not likely that you have ever taken a remedy similar to this. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine and frequent desire at night.

You can see the formula and learn more about Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) at Pittman and Wilson and drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

LIQUOR DEFENDANTS SEEK VENUE CHANGE

One Of 75 Defendants Ask That His Case Be Tried In Hammond Instead Of Indianapolis

IN THE FEDERAL COURT

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—Efforts were launched by defendants in the alleged Gary liquor conspiracy today to have their case tried at Hammond and not at Indianapolis.

Attorney for Blaz Lucas, one of the seventy-five defendants in what government agents claimed was the biggest booze ring in the Middle West, filed a petition with Judge Ferdinand A. Geiger of Milwaukee who will try the case in place of Judge Anderson, asking him to hold the court in Hammond.

Judge Geiger will be required to come into Indiana to make ruling on the petition. It is understood that Homer Elliott, district attorney will fight the petition. One federal official said "they want to get the case tried by a jury picked from residents of Northern Indiana. If this was done it might just as well as be tried by one of the local Lake county courts."

One physician, living south of Rushville, who has been in the county several years, has reported only six births since 1918, according to the books in charge of Dr. E. I. Wooden, and there is no doubt but what some of the babies have gone by without being registered.

Under the plan advanced by Dr. Wooden, such cases could not escape, because the parents would demand a certificate within a few days after the birth.

The expense attached to the printing of the certificates would be light and the commissioners may be asked to order the plan followed out, as suggested by the local physician.

This law provides a penalty of from $5 to $50 and adds that any road supervisor or gravel road superintendent "shall have police power to arrest upon sight any person who is seen violating, or by warrant any person who has violated, any of the provisions of this (the above) section within the county or township for which such road supervisor or gravel road superintendent is elected or appointed." The law also gives the court authority to add $2 to the fine as a fee for the person making the arrest.

A more recent statute provides a penalty of $5 a day for injuring or obstructing highways. Many attorneys believe that this law could be invoked in cases where heavy trucks damage the highways by cutting through the surface. It provides that a fee of $5 may be added to the fine for the attorney of the complaining party.

Chicago, March 8—Indiana promised today to develop a competitor to the anti-Volsteadian bootlegger—the gasoline runner.

The new Indiana law placing a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline, is said to have caused bootleggers of both Indiana and Illinois to pass the word that gasoline running will be more profitable than booze. A boom in the erection of gasoline stations on the Illinois side of the state border, has been reported from a number of border cities.

NATION IS WILLING TO PROTECT RIGHTS

German President Says France Is Trying to Satisfy Appetite to Enslave Rhine and Ruhr

REICHSTAG BACK OF CUNO

Berlin, March 8—"We steadfastly hold out for a free fatherland. The whole nation is willing to protect its sacred rights" President Ebert of Germany declared at a reception at the Leipzig fair today.

The president pointed out that a free Ruhr was necessary to restore the world's economic balance France he charged, is "trying to satisfy a century long appetite to enslave the Rhine and the Ruhr".

France will never succeed, Ebert said, "I assure the people of the Ruhr of the German nation's proud thankfulness."

The Reichstag late last night gave Chancellor Cuno an unanimous vote of confidence on his Ruhr speech of Tuesday.

William Krogman, Chief Defendant in Tell City Whiskey Case Does Not Appear in Court

JUDGE ORDERS HIS REARREST

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—A doctor's certificate showing that William Krogman, chief defendant in the Tell City whiskey case, was too ill to appear in federal court for sentence along with thirty-one other government defendants, failed to save Krogman's bond of $3,000 today.

Judge Anderson ordered it forfeited and directed that a capias be issued for his rearrest.

Krogman and seventeen others were named for alleged conspiracy to rob the Krogman distillery warehouse at Tell City, when eighteen barrels of whiskey were taken. He was to have been sentenced today on his plea of guilty.

Other sentences in the case today ranged from four months to one year and a day.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

There is no need for continual taxing to keep roads in condition only to have them torn up and rendered useless by persons living outside the county who pay no taxes in this county and who pay very little in state taxes to help maintain the state highways. The proper way is to deal with these violators as the law contemplates and have an end to this destruction of roads at this period of the year.

Common sense prevailed at last and the approval suggested by the budget for the new Indiana reformatory got through the legislature. An unreasonable opposition by a partisan group which sought to make trouble and to manufacture political campaign material, placed obstacles in the path of the budget. Attack was centered upon the $2,000,000 item needed for the reformatory. The vigor of the partisan hostiles was such that for a time they were able to develop symptoms of panic in the legislative majority. Courageous leadership and the counsels of honest common sense finally asserted themselves and the general appropriations bill as passed carried the adequate amount originally set for the reformatory project. Petty partisan methods were rebuked and the effort to destroy Indiana's non partisan system of institutional management was defeated.

UPSETS EXPECTED IN THE REGIONALS

Forty-Eight High School Sectional Players Will Begin Second Round of Elimination

AT THREE CITIES THIS YEAR

Teams Divided to Ft. Wayne, Lafayette and Bloomington, and 16 Will Survive For State Tourney

By HEEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—When the winners of the forty-eight sectional basketball tournaments meet at the regionals to qualify for the state finals there is sure to be some surprises. This week will see the second round of the elimination of the Hoosier basketball classic, the Indiana state high school championship.

At three cities; Fort Wayne, Lafayette and Bloomington the regionals will be held March 9 and 10. The forty-eight district champions will be melted down to sixteen and these will compete at Indianapolis March 16 and 17, to decide the state championship.

There were not so many surprises in the sectional tournaments as was generally suspected. To be sure, some unknown teams qualified to enter the regionals but in some districts the teams have had so little publicity this year that almost nothing has been known of their strength.

For the regionals at Bloomington, twelve teams have qualified and six will reach the state championship tourney. Some of the best teams in the state will be eliminated in those games. For example: Bloomington and Bedford meet in the regionals and either is strong enough to play a close game with the best in the state, Franklin and Seymour will meet and it should be a stiff contest. Franklin who for three years has won the state championship, has lost too many players to have a chance at first this year. The last year high school champions are now the college champions at Franklin college.

When Columbus meets Central high school of Evansville one of the best teams in the state will be eliminated. Central has defeated Vincennes. Columbus has a strong quintet. Vincennes, touted by many critics to be the best, should find no difficulty in defeating Hanover. Brookville proved a dark horse in its sectional and will meet Sullivan in the regionals. Winslow and Lyons are the other teams to play at Bloomington.

In the other two regionals, some of the teams must play two games. The teams that will take part in the Fort Wayne regionals: Kendallville, Liberty, Center, Muncie, Rochester, Warsaw, Losantville, South Side of Fort Wayne, Garrett, South Bend, Culver, Moorland, Shelbyville, Marion of Richmond, Marion, Hartford City, Wabash, Connersville, and Huntington.

In the Fort Wayne regional three or four teams loom up strong: Muncie, Marion, and Marion of Richmond all having good records. Shelbyville and South Bend are reported to be fast. In the Fort Wayne regionals, many dark horses will probably qualify for the state tourney.

Many old time rivals will clash in the regionals at Lafayette: Jefferson of Lafayette will meet Lebanon, Logansport will meet Crawfordsville and Brook will play Bainbridge, a team that is reported to be powerful.

Indianapolis followers of the game will watch Manual Training, high school of that city clash with Martinsville, a strong opponent. It might be a good tip to the basketball fans to keep their eyes on the Mount Comfort team which will meet Covington, Michigan City, one of the strongest Indiana teams will play Anderson. Critics in all parts of the state have named Anderson as one of the teams that has a chance to win the state championship.

Frankfort and Emerson of Gary should prove to be a good match. Brazil will meet Perryville. Brazil proved a dark horse in the district by defeating Garfield of Terre Haute the runner up in last year's state championship. Perryville is a team of unknown strength.

Chicago. — A bathing suit which was too pretty to get wet obtained a divorce for Mrs. Anderson DeFilippi who alleged her husband struck her when she refused to go in the water.

Hittin' 'Em & Missin' 'Em

DOPE OUT THE WINNERS AT FORT WAYNE

Fans of Rush county, put on your thinking caps, and see how far your dope will work out. Up at Ft. Wayne in the regionals there will be 13 games played Friday and Saturday. Make a guess on the winners, and fill in the blank printed below, mail 'em to Hittin' 'em tonight or Friday and let's see how good you can guess. We will publish Monday a list of persons who proved good guessers, or even near-enough guessers. Clip it out now, and send it in at once:

At Fort Wayne

1. Kendallville vs Liberty Center.....
2. Muncie vs. Rochester
3. Warsaw vs. Losantville
4. South Side (Ft. Wayne) vs. Garrett
5. South Bend vs. Culver
6. Moorland vs. Shelbyville
7. Richmond vs. Marion
8. Hartford City vs. Wabash
- Connersville vs. Huntington
- Winner No. 1 vs No. 2
- Winner No. 3 vs No. 4
- Winner No. 5 vs No. 6
- Winner No. 7 vs No. 8

Even Rushville isn't the only place around here that went through the season without glass banking boards. Here is what the Richmond Palladium says:

A prominent local citizen, learning that the local high school athletes would obtain greater benefit from the use of glass backboard in play before state tourneys, stated that he would start the ball rolling and give the first donation toward obtaining the glass boards for us in the Coliseum.

They are not so expensive. Smaller towns than Richmond afford them. A few dollars from a few sportsmen in the city would purchase the boards for use here next season.

Speaking of Richmond, they are terribly confident that they will defeat Marion at the Ft. Wayne regional. They have won 25 straight, and expect to make Marion their 26th victory. Richmond wants to be careful, because Elwood had 25 straight, but Anderson knocked 'em a curve on the 26th game.

EAT 'EM UP MOORELAND

Newcastle is boosting for Mooreland, and urging them to take Shelbyville and South Bend in the regional. Sandusky did about that much one year, and came near upsetting all of the dope. Go to it, Mooreland, Rushville is for you too.

Mail your guesses in at once. Be one of the real dopsters, and see how near you can come to hittin' all of 'em.

WE'RE ON THEIR LIST

Newcastle has announced their schedule for next year, which includes 18 games so far, and with many fast state teams. Rushville is scheduled with one game, on November 30, at Newcastle.

SOME TROUBLE EXPERIENCED

Rushville has experienced some trouble in booking the strongest teams for next year, because of the showing made by the team this year. Anderson, Elwood, Shelbyville, Indianapolis and Marion, all turned down offers. Richmond and Columbus, however were among those who want games.

Shelbyville leaves today for the regional, and will remain tonight in Richmond. They play their first game Friday night with Mooreland, and are taking no chances on being tired out by travelling.

It is Shelbyville's first time at the state tourney. Franklin always managed to edge them out before.

A FINE RECORD

Coach Staggs at Anderson is boasting of a record unequalled by no other team. He has piloted his team through six consecutive district championships, played four times in the last day at the state tourney, and twice in the finals. They deserve to win this year. That's why we're pickin' Anderson.

Harry, send in your list of winners for the Ft. Wayne regional.

SKATER LEAPS OVER 13 BARRELS

THINK HE MADE IT?—HE DID!

Over thirteen barrels—the world's record, goes Ben O'Sickey, the professional skater from Cleveland, O., who has just added one to the previous barrel jumping record of 12—shown here in the middle of his leap. Although he does not jump high, his great speed carried O'Sickey the full distance with least exertion and waste motion, as the picture clearly shows. He recently competed at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

ornia collegian, who ought to give Ryan and the Finns a big fight in Paris.

With Paddock, LeConey, Lovejoy, Woodring, McAllister, Scholz and Murchison around looking for Olympic suits the prospects for a young sprinter are mighty slim. Frank Hussey, the sensational New York high school boy, has a chance to get in that select company if anyone has, however. Hussey has been coming so fast that he may force himself on the team, but he is so young that it may militate against him. He has a lot of time, as he will be only a junior in college when the next games roll around.

As for swimming—well, any nation with Johnny Weissmuller and Norman Ross in its family should worry!

Bright Spots in News

New York.—Joe Lynch, bantam-weight champion, has decided to defend his title. He will meet Pete Husie in Harrisburg on February 26 and cision bout in Philadelphia March 5.

Pittsburg.—Wally Steffen, now a Chicago judge, will coach Carnegie Tech eleven next fall in an advisory capacity only, it was announced today. Pat Herron probably will be appointed acting coach.

Anderson — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benbow, aged 89 and 79 respectively, celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary at their home here with a dinner at which six of their children were present.

Hartford City — When C. A. Sellers, a physician, drove his automobile into a ditch and upset, he crawled out and continued on foot to complete his call, before summoning aid for his machine.

New Weight Men For Olympic

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 8.—Uncle Sam may have some concern over the prospect for the distance events at the next Olympic games, but he can have a feeling of almost perfect security in the young weight men that he will send to Paris.

When gray hairs began to splatter the dome of Pat McDonald and Matt McGrath and when the hard-to-beat hand of age began to take the punch out of their arms, American leaders grew worried about the prospect of filling the shoes of those two old gallant police whales.

When McGrath threw his knee out and had to retire at the Antwerp game and when McDonald was being trimmed by the huge Finns, Porhola and Niklander, the feeling was general in the American ranks that some youngsters would have to be developed in the next four years.

Since then three great youngsters have come to the front. They have developed to the point where they are not only worthy of stepping into the shoes of the old whales, but they promise to do even better than their predecessors did.

Ralph G. Hills, the Princeton football and field star, broke the indoor record for the 16 pound shot this season with a toss of 48 feet 9 inches. In the open he ought to come within a few inches of the world's record of 51 feet.

Glenn Hartranft, the great California youngster, no doubt would have broken the world's record last season if he had not gone stale. He was within inches of the old mark early in the season last year, but he started to throw the discus, sprint and various other things and he got off edge before the intercollegiate championships.

California has another great youngster, "Bud" Houser, the high school star. He is a potential world record maker and he is almost sure to make the team.

Both Hartranft and Houser are almost as good with the discus.

In the hammer throw, the American team will again have the veteran champ, Paddy Ryan, who is still young enough to hold his own with the best of them. Among the new school is Jack Merchant, the Calif-

Senior Class Benefit Picture Show And "Revue" Presented

The Senior Class benefit motion picture show, "Who Are My Parents," was given Wednesday night at the Graham Annex Auditorium before a fair sized crowd, and will be repeated again tonight. In connection with the showing of the motion picture feature, a thirty minute "Revue" was also given by high school students, which was well received, and proved to be entertaining, with musical numbers and comedy acts. The "Revue" was under the direction of Raymond Gregg of the Little Theatre.

The benefit picture show is the second one of a series that will be given by the Senior class this spring, and two or three more shows have been booked, which will be presented at about weekly intervals.

of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs and wife of the noted composer; and Mrs. E. J. Ottoway, president of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, Miss McConnell and her mother will also attend a luncheon in connection with the state convention, to be held on Saturday at the Spink Arms hotel.

It is not generally known here that Miss McConnell originated the junior matinee musicals and music study clubs in Indiana, having organized the first one at Muncie in 1918. It is now the largest junior music study club in the state, with a membership of over three hundred.

The Indiana Federation of Music clubs, through Miss McConnell's instigation, is sponsoring and helping to finance the state music memory contest this year.

U. S. NAVY PLANS CONQUEST OF AIR

Around World Flights Will Be Attempted With Navy Dirigible ZR-1, Monster Airship

NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

"Queen Of The Air," AR-3 Sister To Dirigible, Being Built For U. S. Navy in Germany

New York, March 8.—A conquest of the air that includes flights around the world and to the north and south poles is planned by the United States navy.

The flights will be attempted with the navy dirigible ZR-1, a monster airship now under construction at Philadelphia and Lakehurst, N. J. Read Admiral Wm. A. Moffett chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics declared in a speech through a wireless broadcasting station here.

The dirigible, the first of its kind to be built by the navy may be completed about July 1 and will also be sent on long trips throughout the United States, Moffett declared, adding that a sister "Queen of the Air", the ZR-3, is being built for the American navy in Germany.

The two ships, it was declared, comprise the most improved factors known to air science.

Berlin, March 8.—Finishing touches to the Zeppelin ZR-3, with which a non-stop flight from Berlin to Chicago is planned, are expected to be made within a few weeks. The first trial trip of the giant air liner, now under construction at the Bodensee works in South Germany, will take place on May 1, when a flight over the Alps will be attempted.

The ZR-3 will be manned by a German crew on the trans-Atlantic flight, but will fly the American flag. Permission to cross the fields of France was obtained only after assurance that the Zeppelin is owned by the United States and will fly the Stars and Stripes.

Work on the Zeppelin is progressing rapidly under the supervision of an American inspection commission, recently arrived in this country. After the trans-Alpine flight on May 1, the ZR-3 will be brought to Berlin. There, following a ceremonial inspection by American Ambassador Houghton, German pilots will turn the nose of the liner toward Chicago.

The American commission plan to make the trip as guests. The ZR-3 will be turned over to the American government at Chicago, where preparations for its reception next autumn are now being made.

Contrary to the belief once prevalent that the ZR-3 is being built as part of German reparations, its construction is strictly on a cash basis.

Recent announcements from the United States indicate that Polar voyages and a trip around the world are planned for the ZR-3 by American experts. This ship as well as its sistership, the ZR-1, under construction in Philadelphia, is fitted for such work by reason of its long flying range and ability to carry heavy loads under all weather conditions.

WOMEN FROM FORTY TO FIFTY

Will Be Interested in Mrs. Hooker's Recovery by Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I was going through the Change of Life and suffered from a run-down condition and the troubles a woman has to go through at that time, hot flashes, nervousness and headaches. At times I was not able to do my work, but since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am gaining every day and can do my work with more ease than I have for five or six years. I owe it all to your great medicine."—MARTHA HOOKER, 114 College Avenue, St. Paul, Minn.

When women who are between the ages of forty-five and fifty-five are beset with such annoying symptoms as nervousness, irritability, melancholia and heat flashes, which produce headaches, dizziness, or a sense of suffocation, they should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It is prepared from roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women."

HOW KING TUT PROBABLY LOOKED

WE DON'T KNOW JUST WHAT RELATION HE WAS TO TUT-ANKH-AMEN BUT THEY PROBABLY LOOKED MUCH ALIKE

Photo of Sethos I, who preceded Tut-Ankh-Amen by about 100 years, reigning about the middle of the 14th Century before Christ, while Tut-Ankh-Amen's reign is believed to have begun about 1350, B. C. The mummy is now preserved in the Museum at Cairo. Presumably, the mummified corpse of Tut-Ankh-Amen will look much like this when the ceremonies are finally unwrapped and the features exposed to view. The Egyptians believed that such a body as this was absolutely indispensable to the future existence of the person, and they even wrought false bodies, statues in stone or wood, to take the place of this real body, should the latter ever suffer destruction. The process of preservation was easy in a country of so dry a climate, where a body buried on the margin of the desert above the reach of the Nile, but without other precaution will desiccate and after thousands of years be exhumed in astonishingly perfect condition. When the climate was aided by artificial means, you see before you what an amazing durability was imparted to the frail body. There were various means and processes of embalment suited to the purses of the different families seeking the embalmer's services; and although the process was, of course, unused and unknown in the earliest times, it rapidly spread after it was once introduced, and long before Sethos I's time the practice of it had become a regular profession, demanding the services of thousands of men. In the body of this king you can clearly see the masses of aromatic gums and the like, that have been used to fill up the interior cavities, from which the perishable organs have been removed. These latter were also preserved in four jars, which in the tomb were placed beside the body. The top of each jar was carved in the form of a spirit to whose especial protection each was committed. Such a king—even as Tut-Ankh-Amen—was laid away in great state, wearing the splendid regalia of gold, silver and costly stones with which he had been adorned in life. Of these things he had need in the hereafter, and they were necessarily placed in the tomb with him or actually upon his body. The result of this was that the tombs of many of the Kings, of the nobles and officials were robbed systematically from the earliest times, for the rich booty awaiting the successful plunderer was too tempting to be resisted.

OLD FLOWERS NEW TO US

New plants, bearing flowers of unusual size, beauty or character, and foliage plants of striking variegation and grace, are always welcome in the garden, either as specimen plants or clumps to give variety to the old favorites. Several of these plants, while old-timers so far as existing in cultivation is concerned, are so old that they are new to most gardeners. They are worth trying out as a matter of interest.

As a specimen plant or small group, or for growing as a pot plant as a porch ornament, the Daturas, with their great white and creamy yellow trumpets, deliciously fragrant, will prove interesting. A relative of the jimson weed, they have none of its ill-favored characteristics except the "thorn apple" seed pod. The foliage is more delicate and the flowers delightfully fragrant. Neither are they rank growers, such as the despised weed.

Known as Angel's Trumpet and Horn of Plenty to old-fashioned gardeners, these plants are now seldom seen.

The Angel's Trumpet has snowy white flowers within purplish tinting on the exterior. It comes single, double and triplicate, the first having a single trumpet, the second a trumpet within a trumpet and the third three, one within one. Golden Queen Datura has creamy yellow bloom and is usually a little larger flowered than the white. They make well branched plants about two feet in height and sometimes are grown for greenhouse ornamentation. They like a light soil.

The butterfly pea, Centrosema, is another unusual plant, a vine making a growth of about six feet in a season, and a free bloomer. The blossoms are from an inch and a half to two and a half inches in diameter and carried in peculiar position on the stem. They are peculiarly marked and have shades of reddish violet to a red purple, marked and feathered with white. This plant always attracts interest.

Another peculiar plant and valuable for winter bouquets is the Russian statice, Statice Suworowi. This plant, an annual, has leaves which lie in a rosette flat upon the ground and sends up a branching spike some two feet tall of densely packed small rose pink flowers. It has been much used recently as a greenhouse annual, but grows very easily as a garden annual.

The Japanese maize, Zea Japonica, a relative of the corn, is much admired as a foliage plant by those familiar with it. Some years ago it was seen much oftener than it is now and was frequently used in clumps in borders or for separate beds where a striking foliage effect was desired. It is a grass of strong growth, reaching a height of about four feet.

The leaves are striped yellow, green, rose and crimson. Anyone desiring an unusual plant in the garden and one that the neighbors are not likely to possess would do well to invest a nickel in this plant. It will prove very interesting.

While the flowering tobacco, Nicotiana glauca, is commonly known and widely used both in park plantings and in private gardens, the more stately members of the tobacco family, introduced with much acclaim some 25 years ago as the "Star Flower", Nicotiana glauca, has never progressed in favor as rapidly as its merits and a decorative plant deserve. With large bright green leaves, more suggestive of the tobacco than N. glauca, the plant is surmounted with a huge cluster of starry white flowers on long tubes, which gracefully droop above the foliage. Unlike the more commonly known nicotianas, which close up during the day, the star flower remains open.

23 SERIES STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX SEDAN $1550

Hidden qualities largely determine the value and life of a closed car.

Beauty of line and finish and refinements are surface indications and important ones. But your satisfaction with a closed car depends to a great degree upon factors that are unseen—the in-built qualities that come from correct design, use of highest grade materials and careful workmanship.

The 23 Series Studebaker Light-Six Sedan is a quality car. It is built to endure—to give lasting satisfaction.

The Sedan body is substantially built. It will last for years and retain its beauty and comfort. Evidence of its hidden goodness lies in the fact that down under the paint and varnish, the pillars, roof rails and supporting members are made from specially selected ash.

Four wide-opening doors make it easy for all passengers to get in or out without inconvenience to each other. A high-grade heater affords summer warmth on cold, damp days. The wide windows give broad vision in every direction.

Studebaker quality is traditional.

The ESSEX COACH

Know Its Hidden Values They Keep Essex Young

Time and hard service show the real difference in the way cars are built.

Essex values are not all on the outside. They extend to minute details. They include finest bearings, where commonly "bushings" are used. They include devices to prevent wear and to inexpensively take up wear. For weight carried, the Essex frame is the strongest built, save one. Experts, foreign and American, call its motor the finest of its size.

With all these noted chassis qualities the Coach gives closed car utility, comfort and distinction, at little more than open car cost.

"65,780 Miles Without Repairs"

"In the 65,780 miles that I have driven my Essex, the cost of maintenance has been practically nil. Outside of lubrication I have given it no care. The gasoline consumption has averaged around twenty miles to the gallon."

AMUSEMENTS

Coming To Mystic Friday

One of the most fascinating mystery stories ever put into motion pictures is presented in "The Blue Mountain Mystery," which will be the feature attraction at the Mystic on Friday. Here is the situation:

Henry Tracey, a millionaire, is found murdered in his room in a big hotel, during the height of a thunder-storm, while a brilliant ball is taking place on the floor below. In the same corridor with Tracey are the rooms of Mrs. Tracey a second wife, married while his daughter

Pauline and her father have been torn; of the daughter, and of Hector Blunt, a rejected suitor of Pauline.

Pauline and her father have been heard quarreling earlier in the evening. Later when the shot is heard, Blunt says he saw Pauline walking, as if in a daze, from the direction of her father's room, a smoking revolver in her limp hand. The weapon disappears, but is later dug up in the fireplace in Blunt's room. Mrs. Tracey says that she was in the ballroom and heard nothing.

Who killed Henry Tracey, and why? It is a thrilling story, and there is a startling twist to it and will amaze and fascinate.

Clarence found the task of reconciling this family nearly as difficult as driving army mules without cussing, but he accomplishes the task with the aid of his saxophone, his genial temperament, and general tact, so that happiness is the lot of all concerned.

"Clarence" is packed with laughs from beginning to end. In the title role Mr. Reid scores a conspicuous success, while Agnes Ayres and May McAvoy have parts suited to their personalities. There is a supporting cast of rare excellence, and the screen version of Booth Tarkington's famous play is said to rank as one of the most enjoyable pictures of the year. Kathryn Williams, Adolph Menjou, Edward Martindel, Bertie Johns, Robert Agnew Dorothy Gordon and Maym Kelso are in the supporting cast.

Special Judge Craig Acts Favorably on Another Motion for Continu-

ATTORNEY IS STILL SICK

Affidavit Says That Charles Tindell
is Suffering From Relapse With Influenza

A affidavit asking for a continuance in the case of the State against Mary Ellen Hughes, charged with embezzlement, was filed this afternoon in circuit court, and Judge John Craig of Greensburg, special judge in the case, granted the motion and reset the case for trial on April 5.

Judge Craig also ordered an extra panel of 25 persons drawn for jury duty on that date. The case was scheduled for trial on next Monday but affidavits were filed today giving proof that Charles Tindell, attorney from Greenfield, and assistant counsel to C. W. Duncan for the defense, was ill, suffering from a relapse with influenza. A physicians affidavit also was filed.

Judge Sparks this morning appointed three appraisers, John W. Mauzy, William B. Morris and Justus Reese, all of Union township, to appraise land, which is wanted by the Fairview Burying Grounds association, as an addition to the cemetery. The suit was filed by the trustees, who asked for appraisers, and Emory Vandeventer, is named defendant. The appraisers are to report within 5 days to the court.

Evidence also was heard on the suit for partition of real estate in the case of Ode C. Hinton, et al., against Jesse L. Hinton, et al., and the court found that the land could not be divided, and J. T. Arbuckle was appointed commissioner, and the land ordered sold, so that the money could be divided.

The divorce suit of Henry Miller against Anna Miller has been sent to Henry county, on a motion for a change granted to the plaintiff.

The case of John Kelley, Jr., against Russell Behout et al., will be heard here before Judge Craig of Greensburg, as it was agreed upon today that he should hear the case.

May Die Following Shooting

POSSE SEEKS FORMER CONVICT

Spencer, Tenn., March 8.—Mrs. George Haston, mother of secretary of state, E. N. Haston, was probably fatally shot and four others were wounded, when a negro ran amuck here today.

Mrs. Sam Haston, sister-in-law of the secretary of state, who was seriously injured died from fright during the shooting.

Mrs. Haston's husband was seriously wounded and Mrs. G. O. Shattiero and two other neighbors were injured. The negro, Leslie Dudley, paroled convict, who was employed on the Haston farm was pursued by a posse following the shooting.

The negro called Sam Haston to the door of his home early today and opened fire, wounding Haston in both legs. Mrs. Shattiero, a neighbor, visiting at the bedside of Haston's wife rushed to the door and shot down with a bullet near her heart.

Mrs. George Haston then went to the aid of her son and was met by a bullet which penetrated her heart. The negro, it was believed, became enraged when he was reprimanded a few hours earlier by Haston for stealing corn.

Secretary of State Haston, who is also state democratic committee chairman, was notified of the shooting and rushed here from Nashville.

Frank Reynolds and James V. Young of this city have purchased the Standard Manufacturing company, a corporation engaged in the manufacture of the Spiceland folding chair, at Cambridge City, and took possession of the plant the first of this month.

The two Rushville men will continue to operate the plant at Cambridge City, and will have only general supervision over it. The executive and assistant who have been in charge under the old ownership have been continued in their respective capacities.

Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Young bought the factory at an executor's sale February 27. The stock was formerly owned by Bert Wilson of Cambridge City, who died in December and the executor of his estate closed out the business.

The product of the plant is a folding chair that is used extensively in theatres and lodge rooms. The business is housed in a substantial building and about forty persons are employed.

Mrs. Sinsadaugh was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mauzy and lived here for many years following her first marriage. She was a sister of the late G. G. Mauzy, father of Mrs. Jones, and will be remembered by many older residents of Rushville.

The deceased is survived by three sisters, Mrs. S. B. Darst of Chicago, Mrs. George Thomas of Janesville, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Elizabeth Birt of New York City, one brother, E. H. Mauzy of Los Angeles. Her husband is dead.

NIGHT POLICEMAN AT BEDFORD IS KILLED

Thirteen Boys Held In Connection
With Shooting Claim Revolver Was Accidentally Discharged

ESCAPADE AT SKATING RINK

(By United Press)

Bedford Ind., March 8.—William Sutherland, 68 years old, night policeman at Mitchell, ten miles south of here, was killed instantly last night by a revolver which thirteen Bedford boys held in connection with the shooting claimed was accidentally discharged.

Morgan Pattison, George Cupps and Clarence Tabor said the gun was accidentally discharged when Pattison surrendered it to the marshal. The three youths were members of a party of Bedford boys who visited a skating rink at Mitchell. Pattison carried the gun.

When they emerged from the rink he was dared to shoot an arc light suspended over the street. He shot it. Sutherland heard the shot and ran to the scene. The boys scattered.

Later Sutherland encountered the trio and demanded the gun. Tabor said that Pattison offered to surrender it and that when Sutherland grabbed it the cartridge was exploded, the bullet entering above the heart and coming out the back. Sutherland fell over dead.

SEEKING NAME OF THE TRUCK DRIVER

Local Officials Propose To Prosecute Man Whose Machine Mir-
red Down In Mud Sunday

MACHINE STILL BEING HELD

Attorneys Point To Two Indiana
Statutes Which May Be Invoked
In Case Of Heavy Hauling

An effort is being made to learn the name of the driver of the motor truck which mired down in a mud hole three miles east of Rushville Sunday and had to be dragged out Monday, after the freight was unloaded, so that proceedings can be instituted against him for violating the laws regarding heavy hauling on the roads when they are soft.

The truck is still standing at the side of the road, along with two other trucks that have been held up there by road officials until the roads settle.

The truck that got stuck Sunday is owned by a transit company with offices in Indianapolis, it is said, but officials propose to file an affidavit against the driver because he is the one who is accused of actually violating the law.

Attorneys called attention today to the fact that there are two laws under which people using the roads at this season of the year, hauling heavy loads, may be prosecuted. One prescribes the load which may be carried on certain sized wheels and the other provides a penalty for obstructing the highway.

One statute says that it is unlawful "to haul on any turnpike, macadam or gravel road, at any time when the road is thawing through or by any reason of wet weather is in condition to be cut up or injured by hauling, a load on any vehicle, with tires of less than three inches in width the combined weight of which load and vehicle, including the driver, shall be more than 2500 pounds; or on a vehicle with tires three inches and less than four inches in width, the combined weight of which load and vehicle, including the driver, shall be more than 3000 pounds; or on a vehicle with tires four inches and less than five inches in width, the combined weight of which including the driver, shall be more than 3500 pounds; or on a vehicle with tires five inches or over in width, the combined weight of which load and vehicle, including the driver, shall be more than 4000 pounds."

MAIL MAN SEES DIRIGIBLE

James Moore Reports Machine Flying Low Over Southern Rush Co.

James Moore, rural mail carrier on route No. 3 out of Rushville, saw a large gray dirigible flying over the southern part of the county this morning while engaged in delivering mail. The machine was passing in the southwestern direction at a very low rate of speed when he saw it, and carried two passengers, who were plainly visible because the dirigible was flying very low, not more than a thousand feet above the earth. Mr. Moore estimated.

He was about one and one-half miles north of Milroy when he saw the machine. It flew an American flag at the rear.

WOULD PROVIDE A CHECK ON DOCTORS

Dr. E. I. Wooden, County Health Officer, Proposes Birth Certificate to be Mailed

MANY BIRTHS NOT REPORTED

Such Certificate in Possession of Parents May Prove Invaluable in Later Years

A plan to secure registration of all babies born in Rush county, which would compel physicians to report births promptly, and according to the law, may be worked out here, which will consist of the parents receiving a "Birth Certificate" from the health commissioner, showing that the birth has been properly recorded on the books.

The law provides that physicians shall report to the health commissioners all births, and the health officer in turn, records it on the books locally, and forwards the blanks to the state board of health, where the names are again enrolled.

Health commissioners in Rush county asserted that there is a tendency on the part of some physicians to overlook the registering of births, and the law has been violated openly in the county, it is said.

Dr. E. I. Wooden, county health commissioner, has worked out a plan, which may be put into effect here, and which will cause physicians to make the reports promptly.

Dr. Wooden has suggested that the county have printed a form of a certificate, on which could be filled out the name of the new born child, the parents name, state, county and township, and the attending physician, as well as the date of birth, and the date of recording the birth.

These certificates would be given to the city and county health commissioners Drs. J. M. Lee and Wooden, and when the physicians report births, these health officers would fill out one of the certificates and mail it back to the parents, thus giving a check on the physician, and showing the parents that the birth had been properly recorded.

The certificate also would answer for a great many cases where the person has to present a birth certificate in later years in business transactions or other matters that would require birth facts.

The law sets out that unless births are reported within the limit of a few hours time, that the physician cannot force payment for his

RECOMMENDS M'CRAY PERMIT VOTE ON BILL

Attorney General Lesh Advises Governor to Allow People to Ballot on Soldier Bonus

53 BILLS AWAITING ACTION

Indianapolis, March 8.—Attorney General Lesh today recommended that Governor McCray permit the soldier bonus bill to go to a referendum in the 1924 election, without assuming now to determine the constitutionality of the bill.

The governor and some of his advisers are known to doubt the constitutionality of the bonus and executive action on the measure was still a question. John Moorman of Knox, an intimate friend and political counsellor of Governor McCray, takes the position that the bonus bill violates that part of the constitution providing that each law enacted by the legislature shall be sufficient in itself. The governor shares this view.

"The only question now is whether to submit the question to the people," Lesh said. "If it is adopted by a popular vote, then its constitutionality can be tested."

McCray started carefully perusing fifty-eight bills still awaiting his action today. Among them is the cooperative marketing bill which he has also submitted to Attorney General Lesh for an opinion.

GRAND JURY TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION

Officials Hope To Break Up Bootlegging Ring Giving Liquor Allegedly To Congressmen

HAVE MUCH INFORMATION

Washington, March 8.—A sweeping grand jury investigation into extensive bootlegging operations has been decided upon by local federal authorities.

Through this inquiry, local officials hope to break up the bootlegging ring which has been supplying large quantities of liquor allegedly to congressmen, government officials and many residents of the nation's capital prominent socially. The grand jury probably will be convened for the investigation over today or tomorrow.

Much information already has been collected for local police and prohibition agents which will be presented to the grand jury with the request for numerous indictments.

In this manner it is believed that the "big bootleggers" can be reached and the industry which has been flourishing so well within a stone's throw of federal prohibition headquarters broken up.

HIGHWAY IS NOW OPENED

Number 10. Near Hazelton, Opened After Being Closed For Week

Hazelton, Ind., Mar. 8.—Traffic over state road number 10 here—one of the main arteries from southern part of the United States through Indiana to Chicago has been resumed here after having been closed nearly a week.

At this point the traffic is carried across White river on a ferry. The ice on White river has made the crossing so difficult that traffic was hampered.

The state highway commission is building a bridge across the river near the ferry and is expecting it to be completed before December 1923.

The bridge is to be 100 feet long and is said to be the largest bridge on any state highway in the middle west.

MANY ACCIDENTS DUE TO HIGH SPEED

Maintenance Superintendent Says Traffic Should Slow Down In Passing Road Workmen

IN ORDER TO PROTECT MEN

Traffic Co-operation With Work Gangs Would Lessen Maintenance Expense To Taxpayers

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—Accident reports kept by the state highway commission show that many automobile accidents on state roads are due to high speed and frequently this course is followed when maintenance forces are at work on the roads, it was pointed out today in a safety bulletin issued by A. H. Hinkle, superintendent of maintenance.

Mr. Hinkle says traffic should slow down in passing workmen and he urges drivers to cooperate with the department in order to protect men engaged in road upkeep.

"If for no other reason than common courtesy, it is a good reason for high speed traffic to slow down when passing workmen on our highways, the bulletin says. "These men are required to occupy a portion of the highway in maintaining and repairing same. It is not any selection of their own they occasionally interfere with traffic to a small degree. The work on the road surface must be done while traffic is using the road or the road closed and traffic hampered by long detours. It is to avoid as many detours as possible that traffic is permitted on roads being repaired."

"The commission closes roads to traffic only when it is imperative to do so by reason of extensive repair. Indiana has always kept detours down to a minimum compared to the number to be found in state systems of other commonwealths. (If traffic will cooperate with work gangs, closing of roads will be lessened and maintenance work can be done at considerably less expense to the taxpayers."

"It is not an uncommon thing," says Mr. Hinkle, "to see an unreasonable bully driving his machine at a high rate of speed in passing workmen on highways. This course subjects workmen to an unreasonable and unwarranted hazard, and our records show that some of our employees have been killed and others badly injured as a result of negligent criminal tactics."

DON'T GET UP NIGHTS FOR BLADDER ILLS

Dayton Man Reports Relief With Simple Remedy After Getting Up 15 or 20 Times Each Night for Two Years

Mr. Julius Mayer, 1430 East Fifth St., says in his own home paper, the Dayton News: "For two years my bladder caused me to get up many times at night and too frequent in the day. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula), my bladder works perfectly normal and I can sleep all night."

Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder as Epsom Salts do on the bowels. You will be surprised at the impurities which come from the bladder after taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula). It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are useful to give relief. It is not likely that you have ever taken a remedy similar to this. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine and frequent desire at night.

You can see the formula and learn more about Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) at Pittman and Wilson and drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. —Advertisement

One physician, living south of Rushville, who has been in the county several years, has reported only six births since 1918, according to the books in charge of Dr. E. I. Wooden, and there is no doubt but what some of the babies have gone by without being registered.

Under the plan advanced by Dr. Wooden, such cases could not escape, because the parents would demand a certificate within a few days after the birth.

The expense attached to the printing of the certificates would be light and the commissioners may be asked to order the plan followed out, as suggested by the local physician.

This law provides a penalty of from $5 to $50 and adds that any road supervisor or gravel road superintendent "shall have police power to arrest upon sight any person who is seen violating, or by warrant any person who has violated, any of the provisions of this (the above) section within the county or township for which such road supervisor or gravel road superintendent is elected or appointed." The law also gives the court authority to add $2 to the fine as a fee for the person making the arrest.

A more recent statute provides a penalty of $5 a day for injuring or obstructing highways. Many attorneys believe that this law could be invoked in cases where heavy trucks damage the highways by cutting through the surface. It provides that a fee of $5 may be added to the fine for the attorney of the complaining party.

NATION IS WILLING TO PROTECT RIGHTS

German President Says France Is Trying to Satisfy Appetite to Enslave Rhine and Ruhr

REICHSTAG BACK OF CUNO

Berlin, March 8—"We steadfastly hold out for a free fatherland. The whole nation is willing to protect its sacred rights" President Ebert of Germany declared at a reception at the Leipzig fair today.

The president pointed out that a free Ruhr was necessary to restore the world's economic balance France he charged, is "trying to satisfy a century long appetite to enslave the Rhine and the Ruhr."

France will never succeed, Ebert said. "I assure the people of the Ruhr of the German nation's proud thankfulness."

The Reichstag late last night gave Chancellor Cuno an unanimous vote of confidence on his Ruhr speech of Tuesday.

Munich authorities are extremely reticent to give information regarding the 'putoche' which was nipped by arrest of fifteen plotters there yesterday. William Krogman, Chief Defendant in Tell City Whiskey Case Does Not Appear in Court

JUDGE ORDERS HIS REARREST

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—A doctor's certificate showing that William Krogman, chief defendant in the Tell City whiskey case, was too ill to appear in federal court for sentence along with thirty-one other government defendants, failed to save Krogman's bond of $3,000 today.

Judge Anderson ordered it forfeited and directed that a capias be issued for his rearrest.

Krogman and seventeen others were named for alleged conspiracy to rob the Krogman distillery warehouse at Tell City, when eighteen barrels of whiskey were taken. He was to have been sentenced today on his plea of guilty.

Other sentences in the case today ranged from four months to one year and a day.

Women Should Be Masters, of Their Fashions, Pastor Says

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 8—Women of America should "draw up a new declaration of independence and refuse to be dominated by foreign fashion masters," according to Dr. E. A. Robertson, pastor of the East Park Methodist Episcopal church here.

Dr. Robertson made the declaration in an address before the W. C. T. U. with an admonition that women of the United States should "refuse to wear dresses sent over by the demi-monde of Paris."

"Sex dressing is one of the perils confronting modern youth," he said.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8—Information may be broadcasted from police headquarters to police automobiles equipped with radio receiving sets under a proposal approved by Mayor Lew Shank. The mayor said he would arrange with Herman Rikhoff, chief of police, to give the system a trial.

Francis F. Hamilton, city building commissioner, who operates a broadcasting station here, has arranged to be in constant communication with police headquarters and to send information from his station. When the report of the crime is made to police headquarters under the system which is expected to be inaugurated soon, it would immediately go out through the broadcasting station and all policemen in automobiles throughout the city would be able to rush to the scene.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

UPSETS EXPECTED IN THE REGIONALS

Forty-Eight High School Sectional Players Will Begin Second Round of Elimination

AT THREE CITIES THIS YEAR

Teams Divided to Ft. Wayne, Lafayette and Bloomington, and 16 Will Survive For State Tourney

By HEEZE CLARK
(Written for Evening Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., March 8—When the winners of the forty-eight sectional basketball tournaments meet at the regionals to qualify for the state finals there is sure to be some surprises. This week will see the second round of the elimination of the Hoosier basketball classic, the Indiana state high school championship.

At three cities: Fort Wayne, Lafayette and Bloomington the regionals will be held March 9 and 10. The forty-eight district champions will be melted down to sixteen and these will compete at Indianapolis March 16 and 17, to decide the state championship.

There were not so many surprises in the sectional tournaments as was generally suspected. To be sure, some unknown teams qualified to enter the regionals but in some districts the teams have had so little publicity this year that almost nothing has been known of their strength.

For the regionals at Bloomington, twelve teams have qualified and six will reach the state championship tourney. Some of the best teams in the state will be eliminated in those games. For example: Bloomington and Bedford meet in the regionals and either is strong enough to play a close game with the best in the state. Franklin and Seymour will meet and it should be a stiff contest. Franklin who for three years has won the state championship, has lost too many players to have a chance at first this year. The last year high school champions are now the college champions at Franklin college.

When Columbus meets Central high school of Evansville one of the best teams in the state will be eliminated. Central has defeated Vincennes. Columbus has a strong quintet. Vincennes, touted by many critics to be the best, should find no difficulty in defeating Hanover. Brookville proved a dark horse in its sectional and will meet Sullivan in the regionals. Winslow and Lyons are the other teams to play at Bloomington.

In the other two regionals, some of the teams must play two games. The teams that will take part in the Fort Wayne regionals: Kendallville, Liberty, Center, Muncie, Rochester, Warsaw, Losantville, South Side of Fort Wayne, Garrett, South Bend, Culver, Moorland, Shelbyville, Marion of Richmond, Marion, Hartford City, Wabash, Connersville, and Huntington.

In the Fort Wayne regional three or four teams loom up strong: Muncie, Marion, and Marion of Richmond all having good records. Shelbyville and South Bend are reported to be fast. In the Fort Wayne regionals, many dark horses will probably qualify for the state tourney.

Many old time rivals will clash in the regionals at Lafayette: Jefferson of Lafayette will meet Lebanon, Logansport will meet Crawfordsville and Brook will play Bainbridge. A team that is reported to be powerful. Indianapolis followers of the game will watch Manual Training, high school of that city clash with Martinsville, a strong opponent. It might be a good tip to the basketball fans to keep their eyes on the Mount Comfort team which will meet Covington, Michigan City, one of the strongest Indiana teams will play Anderson. Critics in all parts of the state have named Anderson as one of the teams that has a chance to win the state championship.

Frankfort and Emerson of Gary should prove to be a good match. Brazil will meet Perryville. Brazil proved a dark horse in the district by defeating Garfield of Terre Haute the runner up in last year's state championship. Perryville is a team of unknown strength.

Chicago.—A bathing suit which was too pretty to get wet obtained a divorce for Mrs. Anderson DeFilippi who alleged her husband struck her when she refused to go in the water.

DOPE OUT THE WINNERS
AT FORT WAYNE

Fans of Rush county, put on your thinking caps, and see how far your dope will work out. Up at Ft. Wayne in the regionals there will be 13 games played Friday and Saturday. Make a guess on the winners, and fill in the blank printed below, mail 'em to Hittin' 'em tonight or Friday and let's see how good you can guess. We will publish Monday a list of persons who proved good guessers, or even near-enough guessers. Clip it out now, and send it in at once:

At Fort Wayne

1. Kendallville vs Liberty Center
2. Muncie vs. Rochester
3. Warsaw vs Losantville
4. South Side (Ft. Wayne) vs Garrett
5. South Bend vs Culver
6. Moorland vs Shelbyville
7. Richmond vs Marion
8. Hartford City vs Wabash

Connersville vs Huntington
Winner No. 1 vs No. 2
Winner No. 3 vs No. 4
Winner No. 5 vs No. 6
Winner No. 7 vs No. 8

Even Rushville isn't the only place around here that went through the season without glass banking boards. Here is what the Richmond Palladium says:

A prominent local citizen, learning that the local high school athletes would obtain greater benefit from the use of glass backboards in play before state tourneys, stated that he would start the ball rolling and give the first donation toward obtaining the glass boards for us in the Coliseum.

They are not so expensive. Smaller towns than Richmond afford them. A few dollars from a few sportsmen in the city would purchase the boards for use here next season.

Speaking of Richmond, they are terribly confident that they will defeat Marion at the Ft. Wayne regional. They have won 25 straight, and expect to make Marion their 26th victory. Richmond wants to be careful, because Elwood had 25 straight, but Anderson knocked 'em a curve on the 26th game.

EAT 'EM UP MOORELAND

Newcastle is boosting for Mooreland, and urging them to take Shelbyville and South Bend in the regional. Sandusky did about that much one year, and came near upsetting all of the dope. Go to it, Mooreland, Rushville is for you too.

Mail your guesses in at once. Be one of the real dopsters, and see how near you can come to hittin' all of 'em.

WE'RE ON THEIR LIST

Newcastle has announced their schedule for next year, which includes 18 games so far, and with many fast state teams. Rushville is scheduled with one game, on November 30, at Newcastle.

SOME TROUBLE EXPERIENCED

Rushville has experienced some trouble in booking the strongest teams for next year, because of the showing made by the team this year. Anderson, Elwood, Shelbyville, Indianapolis and Marion, all turned down offers. Richmond and Columbus, however were among those who want games.

Shelbyville leaves today for the regional, and will remain tonight in Richmond. They play their first game Friday night with Mooreland, and are taking no chances on being tired out by travelling.

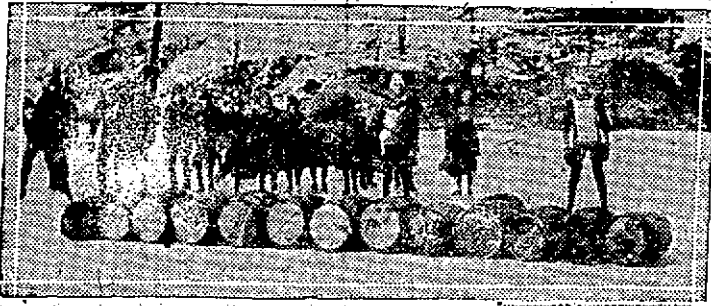

It is Shelbyville's first time at the state tourney. Franklin always managed to edge them out before.

A FINE RECORD

Coach Staggs at Anderson is boasting of a record unequalled by no other team. He has piloted his team through six consecutive district championships, played four times in the last day at the state tourney, and twice in the finals. They deserve to win this year. That's why we're pickin' Anderson.

Hurry, send in your list of winners for the Ft. Wayne regional.

SKATER LEAPS OVER 13 BARRELS

THINK HE MADE IT?—HE DID!
Over thirteen barrels—the world's record, goes Ben O'Sickey, the professional skater from Cleveland, O., who has just added one to the previous barrel jumping record of 12—shown here in the middle of his leap. Although he does not jump high, his great speed carried O'Sickey the full distance with least exertion and waste motion, as the picture clearly shows. He recently competed at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

ornia collegian, who ought to give Ryan and the Finns a big fight in Paris.

With Paddock, LeConey, Lovejoy, Woodring, McAllister, Scholz and Murelison around looking for Olympic suits the prospects for a young sprinter are mighty slim. Frank Hussey, the sensational New York high school boy, has a chance to get in that select company if anyone has, however. Hussey has been coming so fast that he may force himself on the team, but he is so young that it may militate against him. He has a lot of time, as he will be only a junior in college when the next games roll around.

As for swimming—well, any nation with Johnny Weissmuller and Norman Ross in its family should worry!

WILLIAM H. HAMILTON, valued employee of the Federal Civil Service Bureau, Washington, says he would not be without Tanlac, even if it cost ten dollars a bottle

"Tanlac put me on my feet and kept me on the job, and even if it cost ten dollars a bottle I wouldn't be without it," declared Wm. H. Hamilton, 1019 4 1/2 St., Washington, D. C., well known special policeman at the Civil Service Building.

"Stomach trouble and a run-down condition caused me terrible suffering several years. After eating I bloated with gas till I had to gasp for breath, and pains in my back added to my misery. I couldn't sleep and was so weak and worn out I thought I was about done for."

New Weight Men For Olympic

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 8—Uncle Sam may have some concern over the prospect for the distance events at the next Olympic games, but he can have a feeling of almost perfect security in the young weight men that he will send to Paris.

When gray hairs began to splatter the dome of Pat McDonald and Matt McGrath and when the hard-to-heat hand of age began to take the punch out of their arms, American leaders grew worried about the prospect of filling the shoes of those two old gallant police whales.

When McGrath threw his knee out and had to retire at the Antwerp game and when McDonald was being tripped by the huge Finns, Porhola and Niklander, the feeling was general in the American ranks that some youngsters would have to be developed in the next four years.

Since then three great youngsters have come to the front. They have developed to the point where they are not only worthy of stepping into the shoes of the old whales, but they promise to do even better than their predecessors did.

Ralph G. Hills, the Princeton football and field star, broke the indoor record for the 16 pound shot this season with a toss of 48 feet 9 inches. In the open he ought to come within a few inches of the world's record of 51 feet.

Glenn Hartranft, the great California youngster, no doubt would have broken the world's record last season if he had not gone stale. He was within inches of the old mark early in the season last year, but he started to throw the discus, sprint and various other things and he got off edge before the intercollegiate championships.

California has another great youngster, "Bud" Houser, the high school star. He is a potential world record maker and he is almost sure to make the team.

Both Hartranft and Houser are almost as good with the discus.

In the hammer throw, the American team will again have the veteran champ, Paddy Ryan, who is still young enough to hold his own with the best of them. Among the new school is Jack Merchant, the Calif-

U. S. NAVY PLANS CONQUEST OF AIR

Around World Flights Will Be Attempted With Navy Dirigible ZR-1, Monster Airship

NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

"Queen Of The Air," AR-3 Sister To Dirigible, Being Built For U. S. Navy in Germany

New York, March 8.—A conquest of the air that includes flights around the world and to the north and south poles is planned by the United States navy.

The flights will be attempted with the navy dirigible ZR-1, a monster airship now under construction at Philadelphia and Lakehurst, N. J. Read Admiral Wm. A. Moffett chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics declared in a speech through a wireless broadcasting station here.

The dirigible, the first of its kind to be built by the navy may be completed about July 1 and will also be sent on long trips throughout the United States, Moffett declared, adding that a sister "Queen of the Air", the ZR-3, is being built for the American navy in Germany.

The two ships, it was declared, comprise the most improved factors known to air science.

Berlin, March 8.—Finishing touches to the Zeppelin ZR-3, with which a non-stop flight from Berlin to Chicago is planned, are expected to be made within a few weeks. The first trial trip of the giant air liner, now under construction at the Bodensee works in South Germany, will take place on May 1, when a flight over the Alps will be attempted.

The ZR-3 will be manned by a German crew on the trans-Atlantic flight, but will fly the American flag. Permission to cross the fields of France was obtained only after assurance that the Zeppelin is owned by the United States and will fly the Stars and Stripes.

Work on the Zeppelin is progressing rapidly under the supervision of an American inspection commission, recently arrived in this country. After the trans-Alpine flight on May 1, the ZR-3 will be brought to Berlin. There, following a ceremonial inspection by American Ambassador Houghton, German pilots will turn the nose of the liner toward Chicago.

The American commission plan to make the trip as guests. The ZR-3 will be turned over to the American government at Chicago, where preparations for its reception next autumn are now being made.

Contrary to the belief once prevalent that the ZR-3 is being built as part of German reparations, its construction is strictly on a cash basis.

Recent announcements from the United States indicate that Polar voyages and a trip around the world are planned for the ZR-3 by American experts. This ship as well as its sistership, the ZR-1, under construction in Philadelphia, is fitted for such work by reason of its long flying range and ability to carry heavy loads under all weather conditions.

HOW KING TUT PROBABLY LOOKED

WE DON'T KNOW JUST WHAT RELATION HE WAS TO TUT-ANKH-AMEN BUT THEY PROBABLY LOOKED MUCH ALIKE

Photo of Sethos I, who preceded Tut-Ankh-Amen by about 100 years, reigning about the middle of the 14th Century before Christ, while Tut-Ankh-Amen's reign is believed to have begun about 1350, B. C. The mummy is now preserved in the Museum at Cairo. Presumably, the mummified corpse of Tut-Ankh-Amen will look much like this when the ceremonies are finally unwrapped and the features exposed to view. The Egyptians believed that such a body as this was absolutely indispensable to the future existence of the person, and they even wrought false bodies, statues in stone or wood, to take the place of this real body, should the latter ever suffer destruction. The process of preservation was easy in a country of so dry a climate, where a body buried on the margin of the desert above the reach of the Nile, but without other precaution will desiccate and after thousands of years be exhumed in astonishingly perfect condition. When the climate was aided by artificial means, you see before you what an amazing durability was imparted to the frail body. There were various means and processes of embalment suited to the purses of the different families seeking the embalmer's services; and although the process was, of course, unused and unknown in the earliest times, it rapidly spread after it was once introduced, and long before Sethos I's time the practice of it had become a regular profession, demanding the services of thousands of men. In the body of this king you can clearly see the masses of aromatic gums and the like, that have been used to fill up the interior cavities, from which the perishable organs have been removed. These latter were also preserved in four jars, which in the tomb were placed beside the body. The top of each jar was carved in the form of a spirit to whose special protection each was committed. Such a king—even as Tut-Ankh-Amen—was laid away in great state, wearing the splendid regalia of gold, silver and costly stones with which he had been adorned in life. Of these things he had need in the hereafter, and they were necessarily placed in the tomb with him or actually upon his body. The result of this was that the tombs of many of the Kings, of the nobles and officials were robbed systematically from the earliest times, for the rich booty awaiting the successful plunderer was too tempting to be resisted.

THE HOME GARDEN

OLD FLOWERS NEW TO US

New plants, bearing flowers of unusual size, beauty or character, and foliage plants of striking variegation and grace, are always welcome in the garden, either as specimen plants or clumps to give variety to the old favorites. Several of these plants, while old-timers so far as existing in cultivation is concerned, are so old that they are new to most gardeners. They are worth trying out as a matter of interest.

As a specimen plant or small group, or for growing as a pot plant as a porch ornament, the Daturas, with their great white and creamy yellow trumpets, deliciously fragrant, will prove interesting. A relative of the jimson weed, they have none of its ill-favored characteristics except the "thorn apple" seed pod. The foliage is more delicate and the flowers delightfully fragrant. Neither are they rank growers, such as the despised weed.

Known as Angel's Trumpet and Horn of Plenty to old-fashioned gardeners, these plants are now seldom seen.

The Angel's Trumpet has snowy white flowers within purplish tinting on the exterior. It comes single, double and triplicate, the first having a single trumpet, the second a trumpet within a trumpet and the third three, one within one. Golden Queen Datura has creamy yellow bloom and is usually a little larger flowered than the white. They make well branched plants about two feet in height and sometimes are grown for greenhouse ornamentation. They like a light soil.

The butterfly pea, Centrosema, is another unusual plant, a vine making a growth of about six feet in a season, and a free bloomer. The blossoms are from an inch and a half to two and a half inches in diameter and carried in peculiar position on the stem. They are peculiarly marked and have shades of reddish violet to a red purple, marked and feathered with white. This plant always attracts interest.

Another peculiar plant and valuable for winter bouquets is the Russian statice, Statice Suworowi. This plant, an annual, has leaves which lie in a rosette flat upon the ground and sends up a branching spike some two feet tall of densely packed small rose pink flowers. It has been much used recently as a greenhouse annual, but grows very easily as a garden annual.

The Japanese maize, Zea Japonica, a relative of the corn, is much admired as a foliage plant by those familiar with it. Some years ago it was seen much oftener than it is now and was frequently used in clumps in borders or for separate beds where a striking foliage effect was desired. It is a grass of strong growth, reaching a height of about four feet.

The leaves are striped yellow, green, rose and crimson. Anyone desiring an unusual plant in the garden and one that the neighbors are not likely to possess would do well to invest a nickel in this plant. It will prove very interesting.

While the flowering tobacco, Nicotiana glauca, are commonly known and widely used both in park plantings and in private gardens, the more stately members of the tobacco family, introduced with much acclaim some 25 years ago as the "Star Flower", Nicotiana glauca, has never progressed in favor as rapidly as its merits and a decorative plant deserve. With large bright green leaves, more suggestive of the tobacco than N. glauca, the plant is surmounted with a huge cluster of stately white flowers on long tubes, which gracefully droop above the foliage. Unlike the more commonly known nicotianas, which close up during the day, the star flower remains open.

At times I was not able to do my work, but since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am gaining every day and can do my work with more ease than I have for five or six years. SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days. —Advertisement

Hidden qualities largely determine the value and life of a closed car.

Beauty of line and finish and refinements are surface indications and important ones. But your satisfaction with a closed car depends to a great degree upon factors that are unseen—the in-built qualities that come from correct design, use of highest grade materials and careful workmanship.

The 23 Series Studebaker Light-Six Sedan is a quality car. It is built to endure—to give lasting satisfaction.

The Sedan body is substantially built. It will last for years and retain its beauty and comfort. Evidence of its hidden goodness lies in the fact that down under the paint and varnish, the pillars, roof rails and supporting members are made from specially selected ash.

Four wide-opening doors make it easy for all passengers to get in or out without inconvenience to each other. A high-grade heater affords summer warmth on cold, damp days. The wide windows give broad vision in every direction.

Studebaker quality is traditional.

The ESSEX COACH

Know Its Hidden Values
They Keep Essex Young

Time and hard service show the real difference in the way cars are built.

Essex values are not all on the outside. They extend to minute details. They include finest bearings, where commonly "bushings" are used. They include devices to prevent wear and to inexpensively take up wear. For weight carried, the Essex frame is the strongest built, say one. Experts, foreign and American, call its motor the finest of its size.

With all these noted chassis qualities the Coach gives closed car utility, comfort and distinction, at little more than open car cost.

"65,780 Miles Without Repairs"

"In the 65,780 miles that I have driven my Essex, the cost of maintenance has been practically nil. Outside of lubrication I have given it no care. The gasoline consumption has averaged around twenty miles to the gallon."

NOTICE

In the Matter of the Petition of Harry McManus, et al., for the Improvement of a Highway in Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana.

Notice is hereby given in the matter of the petition of Harry McManus et al., for the improvement of a highway in Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana, that on the fifth day of February, 1923, the petitioners in the matter of said improvement, petitioned the Board of Commissioners of said county and state that said matter be referred back to the viewers in said matter with the request of said petitioner that the material for said highway be specified as crushed boulders or stone instead of cement as at that time provided in the specifications. That said Board of Commissioners being duly advised in the premises, ordered said matter referred back to the viewers with instructions to reform the plans and specifications for said highway and to make a further report therein.

That on the 27th day of February, 1923, the re-viewers and engineer, duly appointed by the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, in the matter of said improvement, filed their report therein.

That said report in substance shows the findings of said re-viewers and engineer to be as follows, to-wit:

(1) That the proposed improvement will be of public utility, and convenience.

(3) That the prayer of the petitioners should be granted according to the plans and specifications filed by the re-viewers and engineer.

(4) That said highway is described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point in the center of said highway where the same connects with the Omer C. Coming To Mystic Friday

One of the most fascinating mystery stories ever put into motion pictures is presented in "The Blue Mountain Mystery," which will be the feature attraction at the Mystic on Friday. Here is the situation:

Henry Tracey, a millionaire, is found murdered in his room in a big hotel, during the height of a thunder-storm, while a brilliant ball is taking place on the floor below. In the same corridor with Tracey are the rooms of Mrs. Tracey a second wife, married while his daughter

Pauline and her father have been torn: of the daughter, and of Hector Blunt, a rejected snorer of Pauline.

Pauline and her father have been heard quarreling earlier in the evening. Later when the shot is heard, Blunt says he saw Pauline walking, as if in a daze, from the direction of her father's room, a smoking revolver in her limp hand. The weapon disappears, but is later dug up in the fireplace in Blunt's room. Mrs. Tracey says that she was in the ballroom and heard nothing. Who killed Henry Tracey, and why? It is a thrilling story, and there is a startling twist to it and will amaze and fascinate.

good angel in the family of a millionaire whose happiness is being dashed upon the rocks because of their lack of harmony and constant bickering. Clarence found the task of reconciling this family nearly as difficult as driving army mules without cussing, but he accomplishes the task with the aid of his saxophone, his genial temperament, and general tact, so that happiness is the lot of all concerned.

"Clarence" is packed with laughs from beginning to end. In the title role Mr. Reid scores a conspicuous success, while Agnes Ayres and May McAvoy have parts suited to their personalities. There is a supporting cast of rare excellence, and the screen version of Booth Tarkington's famous play is said to rank as one of the most enjoyable pictures of the year. Kathryn Williams, Adolph Menjou, Edward Martindel, Bertie Johns, Robert Agnew Dorothy Gordon and Maym Kelso are in the supporting cast.
